

FRASER VALLEY CURRICULUM FAIR

DATE: Saturday, May 15th, 2010
TIME: 10:00 am to 5:00 pm
WHERE: Clayburn Village Schoolhouse
4315 Wright Street Abbotsford
COST: Free

The Fraser Valley Curriculum Fair is shaping up to be a fantastic one-day event for families currently homeschooling or those considering the home learning option for their family! Take a step back in time as this year's fair takes on a PIONEER theme! The day's activities include:

- A Used Curriculum Exchange – a chance for you to buy and sell your gently used homeschool books, “garage sale” style!
- A Day In the Life of a Pioneer Student – Children of all ages will become students in pioneer times by attending “mock” classroom sessions held throughout the day!
- Hands-on arts & crafts will be ongoing so that students can create toys from long ago!
- The historic Clayburn Village General Store is only a half-block away so a visit by your family to the store is a must!
- For those wanting to explore homelearning in our province, information packages will be available!
- Weather permitting, bring a picnic lunch and network with other homeschooling and homelearning families on the school grounds!

This event is presented by SMARTS, so that your family's entry to the Curriculum Fair and all on-site activities are FREE!

SMARTS will have its entire store on location at the Curriculum Fair. This is an excellent opportunity for parents and teachers to browse all of the excellent resources carried by SMARTS. Anyone wishing to save on shipping can place their order for resources before May 15th and SMARTS will have it at the Curriculum Fair, ready for your pick-up!

Please check back in April for details regarding the Fraser Valley Curriculum Fair by visiting the SMARTS site: www.shopatsmarts.com