FRASER VALLEY HOME LEARNING EXPO FRIDAY - MAY 23RD, 2008

The 2008 Fraser Valley Home Learning Expo will take place at the Abbey Arts Addition (next to the Abbey Arts Theatre) 2329 Crescent Way, Abbotsford, on Friday, May 23rd, 2008. Please note that this is not the long weekend in May.

As a family currently homelearning, or for those parents considering homelearning for their children, you won't want to miss this highly informational & interactive Expo. It is designed to encourage families to explore all the homelearning opportunities available to them in our beautiful province. Children and parents alike will come away, excited and inspired about homelearning options for their family!

The Expo will be an admission-free event for families, however prior registration will be required. Certain workshops for parents and children, may carry a nominal charge of $5 and pre-registration for those activities will also be required. Workshop space will be limited and will be given on a first-come first-served basis, so register early.

Registration for the expo will commence on February 1st, 2008 and will be done online at: www.fvhomelearningexpo.ca. Please note that this website is not going live until February 1st, 2008. All exhibitor information, workshop details and ticket information will be available at that site at that site. SMARTS will also be in attendance at the Expo - we hope to see you there!

Author Michelle Mulder will be in attendance to talk to kids about her latest book, Maggie & the Chocolate War. Ms. Mulder's book is part of the Kids' Power Series and will inspire young readers. It's 1947 and although World War II is over, food prices keep going up. Maggie has been saving her delivery job money to buy her best friend Jo a chocolate bar for her birthday. Suddenly without warning, the price of chocolate is raised almost 60% so she'll never be able to save enough money in time for Jo's birthday! The other kids are outraged at the new price too. Maggie and her friends leap into action and wage a strike against the price hike. But what can a bunch of kids do? More than you think! Includes actual newspaper clippings and photographs from real-life events that took place. Set in British Columbia !!

Be sure to keep Friday, May 23rd, 2008 open on your calendars !!
