FRASER VALLEY HOME LEARNING EXPO

At the Fraser Valley Home Learning Expo, Sara Whitney from Arts Umbrella works with a homeschool student, teaching her how to make a self-portrait. The Expo was held at the Abbey Arts Centre in Abbotsford last Friday and featured a variety of excellent parent workshops, multiple kids' hands-on activities sponsored by the Arts Umbrella, Science World, Creative Edge & Summit Learning Centre. As well, a number of DL schools, curriculum vendors and community groups were in attendance to speak with parents about the many opportunities and choices that are open to families through homelearning. Next year's Expo will take place toward the end of May - watch future SMART SCOOP newsletters for exact dates or visit SMARTS at www.shopatsmarts.com. You can visit the expo website when it goes live next March - www.fvhomelearningexpo.ca. We hope to see you there!
